LMU Latin America Forum 2022

The LMU Latin America Network is happy to announce the LMU Latin America Forum 2022, an interdisciplinary conference focusing on joint projects of researchers from LMU and their partners in Latin America.

Speakers from institutions of higher education from seven countries in Latin America will discuss current topics with their counterparts at LMU.

During this two-day conference, researchers will present their work in four different areas of knowledge:

- Cultures of Knowledge
- Environment
- Health
- Social Dynamics

Not for publication

I'm thrilled to be hosting a session on "Environment – Human-made challenges and perspectives" with the participation of Alberto Acosta (Ecuador), Joao Paulo Barretto & Jaime Diákara (Brazil), and María Laura Böhm (Argentina – LMU).

This hybrid conference allows for virtual participation from anywhere, so make sure to register here: LMU Latin America Forum 2022 – Zoom Registration
